January 24, 2002 LB 82

knew what it did, but we're getting there. So the rest of the process I'm not going to have objections to what the Revenue...what the Judiciary Committee is proposing to do. I do hope that by the time we get ready to vote on each part that we do know what we're doing.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Wickersham and Senator Brashear. Senator Bruning, on your amendment.

SENATOR BRUNING: Mr. President, members of the Legislature, let's be clear here. Right now, the Supreme Court has the ability to put in a Social Security number on a citation if they want to. You adopt my amendment that's the way it will stay. If you don't adopt this amendment, the Supreme Court may not, in prescribing the form of citations, put Social Security numbers on there until the law changes. So if you adopt my amendment, things stay the same. You don't adopt my amendment and the Supreme Court won't be able to add that even if they want to. I'd prefer to let the justices of the Supreme Court make that decision. I trust them to make that decision in our interest. I'll continue to trust them. That's why I offer the amendment. They can make that decision if they need to. Law enforcement is telling us that they would like to have that...continue to have that ability to talk about Social Security numbers. It makes it a lot easier to identify the right person. I trust law enforcement. I trust their judgment. I'm not out there doing what they do every day, but if they tell me they need Social Security numbers I believe that. That's important to me that they think they need those, and I can understand why. You pull somebody over. Who are you? She says, I'm Mary Smith. Is that your married name? Is that your maiden name? Which name is that? How do you know who that is? Mary Smith, there's got to be a thousand Mary Smiths in Nebraska, or five hundred. How do you know which one you're talking about? Half of them move every year. Which address are you at, Mary? Well, you know, last week or this week, this apartment or that apartment? It's hard to tell. Social Security numbers are one way to identify people. And, Senator Chambers, I appreciate the education on citations. I admit in my private practice I spend a grand total of zero minutes a year on citations. I don't do speeding tickets. Thank goodness, my practice is robust enough I don't
